

Bank Error in Your Favor!

To all MSA and CSA members:

I made an error in my previous email blast when I explained that we were going to give away 2 entries to the 2016 MSA World Championships. I was of the understanding that the drawing announced by Robby Moudy was for this event, when in fact, the drawing was for The Patriot event in February. The good news is that we are always true to our word and my mistake is to your benefit. Since we have had over fifty people respond to the Patriot drawing already, we will now draw for two main match entries for the Patriot and two main match entries for the 2016 MSA Championships.

Any entries sent prior to this email will be included in the Patriot drawing. Any entries sent after this notice from those already entered will be included in the drawing for World entries. If you have not entered yet, please send a separate email for each drawing you wish to be included in. If you have entered the drawing for The Patriot and wish to be in the drawing for Worlds, please send an additional email stating you wish to be included in that drawing as well. We are drawing from the actual emails that are sent. If you have entered family members on your emails, we will separate the names for the drawing. I apologize for any confusion my error has caused. Please get your requests in to the MSA office by 4pm Mountain Time on December 24th to be included in the drawings. The winners will be announced by 5pm Mountain Time on our Facebook page and by email. Best of luck to everyone!
